Mississippi Gulf Coast Christmas

Balmy breezes sough through slender pines. Herons, terns and egrets wade the beach. Crabs slither sideways through the bayou's silt, And awkward cranes stretch forth and reach, Seeking elusive mullet or a shrimp. Changing tides wash forth and bathe the shore Bringing mysterious flotsam from far lands. The stars burn colder, brighter than before. Carolers circle bonfires on the sand And mellow drawls exchange a hearty toast As small lights twinkle on boats offshore, Announcing it is Christmas on the Coast.

Second suit filed after HGH deaths

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT cond civil lawsuit has been filed in Hancock Circuit Court following two deaths allegedly resulting from problems with anesthesia equipment in Hancock General Hospital's operating room last May.

Plaintiffs in the lawsuit filed this week are Louis J. Latour of Bay St. Louis and Mary Margaret Aleman.

Defendants are Hancock General Hospital; Joseph H. Nodurft, M.D.; Deborah Rucker, R.N.; Medical Specialities, Inc.; Allied Healthcare Products, Inc.; and ABC Corporation.

Latour is the widower and Aleman is the daughter of Elizabeth Henderson Latour, who died during surgery at the hospital May 20.

Aleman is also the executrix of Elizabeth Latour's estate.

The complaint filed on behalf of plaintiffs by the law firm of Denton, Persons, Dornan and Bilbo of Biloxi alleges that "the acts and omissions of the defendants, and each of them. amounted to such gross negligence, willful or wanton misconduct as to evince an utter and complete disregard for the life and safety of the public, including the dece-

The plaintiffs are asking for $1 million compensatory damages and $10 punitive damages from the defendants jointly and severally, plus all costs in connection with the lawsuit.

This wrongful death suit, like an earlier one filed Dec. 13 by children of Margaret Ann Amann, who also died following surgery at Hancock General Hospital, alleges breach of implied warranty by Allied Healthcare Products and ABC Corporation, who designed, manufactured and marketed quick-connect/couplers and supply line tubing used in the equi hospital.

According to the complaint, employees of Medical Specialities, while attempting to install anesthesia equipment at the hospital on May 16, negligently cross-connected the oxygen and nitrous oxide supply lines of the anesthesia equipment then being used by the hospital so that nitrous oxide was thereafter conducted through the oxygen supply system and oxygen was conducted through the nitrous oxide supply system.

On May 20, the complaint continued. both Elizabeth Latour and Margaret Amann were given 100 percent nitrous oxide instead of oxygen.

Latour died on the operating table. Amann died May 25. Latour was 74 when she died; Amann

Nodurft allegedly was responsible for the supervision, administration and control of all anesthesia services administered by the hospital, and Rucker was a nurse anesthetist. As an alternative to other allegations set forth in the complaint, the plaintiffs allege that Nodurft negligently crossconnected the oxygen and nitrous oxide supply line hoses of the anesthesia equipment.

The defendants Medical Specialties, Hancock General Hospital, Nodurft and Rucker are charged with negligence. The complaint asks for compensation or:

Loss of companionship, affection and devotion of the decedent; Net cash value of the life expectancy of the decedent; Recovery for physical pain and mental suffering of the decedent prior to her death; and Medical, funeral and burial expenses.

CHRISMON TREE-Christmas decorations at First Presbyterian Church in Bay St. Louis are highlighted by an evergreen tree bung with Chrismon ornaments. Chrismons are Christian monograms. All designs of Chrismon ornaments are symbols and Greek letters for Christ which have been passed down through centuries of Christian history. All Chrismons are made in white and gold to symbolize the purity and majesty of the Son of God. The decorated tree has been in the sanctuary of the church since the first Sunday of Advent. After Christmas, it will be taken outside and allowed to dry. Then the branches will be stripped and the tree will be made into a cross. The bare cross, symbolizing Christ's crucifixion, will be placed in the church at the beginning of Lent, and on Easter morning it will be decorated with lilles to symbolize Christ's rising from the dead. The idea for the Chrismon tree at First Presbyterian Church came from Marge Hitchcock. The Women of the Church made the ornaments Marian Rapp served as chairman and Alice Hondzinski assisted in coordinating the project (Staff photo by Nan Patton Enriright)

Diamondhead car crash kills Bay woman

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT A Bay St. Louis woman died Saturday from injuries received in a one-car accident near Diamondhead Mary North, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.W. North Jr. of 433 Demontlezin Avenue, died at the scene, Hancock County Coroner Carl Banderet said. She was 22 yesterday. The accident occurred on Gen Drive sometime, between 2 and 3 a.m.

When the Diamondhead security guard passed the site at 2 a.m., there was nothing there. Banderet said. After the security guard made his rounds through Diamondhead and returned to the scene about 3:30 a.m. he spotted North's car.

Barderet said that North was coming out of Diamondhead and apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

"Her car yeered to the left and struck a pine tree liesd on." heisald.... Both the Diamondhead Rescue Unit and Mobile Medic Unit were dispatched

Chilly temperatures test gas power in Bay area

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

A number of Bay St. Louis residents with natural gas heating had a chilly Christmas Eve morning until power was boosted at the main regulating station on Ulman Avenue.

Utilities Manager Bill Johnson said it is normal for the whole system to drop when the weather is as cold as it was yesterday.

The problem was increased, he said, by the fact that a second regulating station on Washington Street and Central Avenue was damaged as the result of a traffic accident last week. "We've ordered parts," he said, "to fix that station."

Boosting the power at the Ulman Avenue station, he said, should have solved the problem for the majority of Bay St. Louis residents.

Some 25 to 30 homes remained cold late Saturday morning, probably from a valve malfunction, Johnson said.

"We're trying to locate that problem right now," Johnson reported at 11 a.m., "and will fix it as soon as possi-ble."

Judge revokes probation in food stamp fraud case

In Gulfport Wednesday Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin revoked the probation of Jo Ellen Champagne of Lakeshore and sentenced her to ten years in the state penitentiary for food stamp fraud.

Last January, Champagne pled guilty to seven felony counts of food stamp fraud, covering a period from November 1980 through March 1982; from which she received nearly $11,000 in stamps.

She also pled guilty to the unauthorized drawing of food stamps from Loui-

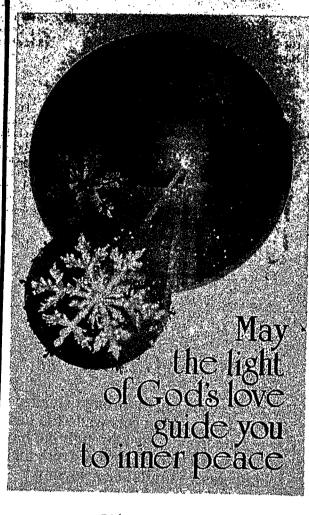

At that time Griffin suspended a tenyear sentence and placed Champagne on five years of probation on condition she make full restitution to the Hancock County Department of Welfare.

Assistant District Attorney John C. (Sonny) Johnson told Griffin Wednesday that Champagne had made no attempt to make restitution.

Griffin imposed a ten-year sentence on each charge, with the sentences to run concurrently.

Two armed robberies being investigated

By ELLIS CUEVAS The Wednesday armed robbery of a Waveland restaurant and Kiln grocery are being investigated by local police. Delbert Seay, Hancock County investigator, said "At 2:40 a.m. Thursday, two males wearing ski masks entered the Majic Market on Highway 603, Kiln. They pulled a gun on Harvey Howard, store operator, then one led him to a back room while the other robbed the safe and cash register."

"Some $340 in cash, 11 blank site drafts and 92 money orders are reported missing," Seay added. Seay stated that Don Coss, Hancock County deputy, was at the scene within Waveland Police Department Investigator Robert (Poochie) Tartavoulle reports that a burglar took approximately 40 Seiko watches from Cathy's Jewelry and Gifts at Our Shopping Center in Waveland Sunday, Dec. 18 at about 2:20 a.m.

An armed robbery Wednesday at the Sirloin Stockade on US-90 in Waveland netted the thief $570 in cash and about $1,000 in checks, Tartavoulle said. The restaurant had closed and the manager was going out the back door of Sirioin Stockade at 10:25 p.m. when the robbery occurred.

According to Tartavoulle, the manager believes the robber, who had a gun, was male, but he could not otherwise identify the perpetrator because

The Christmas Story

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing wis first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David) To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn. And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo. the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them. Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another. Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifring and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Christmas 1983

It is a very special pleasure for Nancy and me to extend warmest greetings and best wishes to all of you during this most joyous of

This festive occasion is celebrated in many different ways. We exchange gifts, attend church services, decorate our homes and Christmas trees, and enjoy a family dinner. But perhaps the tradition that most warms the heart is the sound of Christmas music.

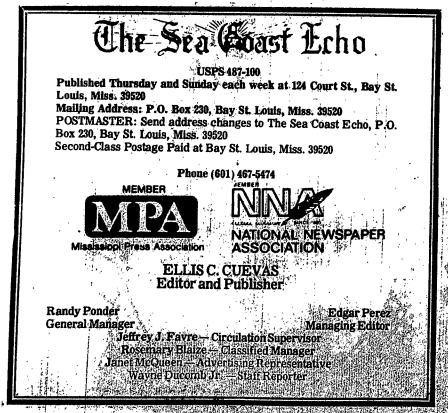

e songs ever sung at Christmastime, the most wonderful of all was the song of exaltation heard by the shepherds while tending their flocks on the night of Christ's birth. An angel of the Lord appeared to them and said: "Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great Joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord." Suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of voices praising the Heavenly Father and singing: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Sometimes, in the hustle and bustle of holiday preparations we forget that the true meaning of Christmas was given to us by the angelic host that holy night long ago. Christmas is the commemoration of the birth of the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ, whose message would truly be one of good tidings and great joy, peace and good will. During this glorious festival let us renew our determination to follow His example.

Won't all of you join with Nancy and me in a prayer for peace and good will. May a feeling of love and cheer fill the hearts of everyone throughout this holiday season and in the coming year.

We hope this Christmas will be especially wonderful and that it will usher in a new year of peace and prosperity.

What Child Is This?

What Child is this who laid to rest On Mary's lap is sleeping, Whom angels greet with anthems sweet While shepherds watch are keeping? This, this is Christ the King Whom shepherds quard and angels sing, Haste, haste to bring him laud, The Babe, the Son of Mary.

So bring him incense, gold and myrrh, Come peasant, king to own him. The King of kings salvation brings, Let loving hearts enthrone him. Raise, raise the song on high, The virgin sings her lullaby, Joy, joy for Christ is born, The Babe, the Son of Mary.

SPINAL CORD INJURIES

Before this day is over, another 30 Americans will be paralyzed by spinal cord injuries. By this time next year, spinal cord injuries-broken necks and backs—will have accounted for an additional 10,000 cases of paralysis.

Most of these cases will occur, as they do every year, among young people between the ages of 15 and 24. Young men will be hardest hit. On the average, they'll be just 19 when they sustain their disabling injuries.

Automobile accidents on our highways account for almost half of all spinal cord injuries. Dives into shallow water, falls (particularly from heights) and assaults with guns and knives add to the toll. Spinal cord injuries have become a very serious problem among young people. Compounding the tragedy is the fact that in many cases a measure of caution and common sense could have prevented the injury.

Accidents will happen, yes, but a great many paralyzing injuries can be prevented. The grim reality of alcoholrelated traffic accidents should be a primary concern of every parent, every citizen in the community. Seat belts and infant seats are available routinely. We should use them and insist that our children use them. A recognized driver's education program should be a must for teenagers.

We should insist, too, that family members who ride motorcycles and bicycles wear helmets, to protect against injuries to the head and neck. Diving accidents can be avoided by heeding the simple warning, "Know the depth before you dive."

If, despite all precautions, your teenager or someone else does suffer a possible spinal cord injury, make sure that he or she receives proper medical care immediately.

For starters, don't move the victim—not even a little bit—until a spinal cord injury has been ruled out by a medical professional.

What begins as a fracture can son is moved or is permitted to move. Transport of a suspected spinal cord injury to the hospital must be made by experts, after proper immobilizing procedures have been taken. Lifting, or straigtening legs, or even putting a pillow under someone's head could prove to be disastrous.

If the injury does cause paralysis-loss of sensation or muscle control, or both-there should be no delay in transporting the injured person to a regional trauma center or to a hospital with a trauma unit.

"Spinal cord injury is a demanding often confusing and very complicated problem, one that, we now know, requires the combined skills of a multidisciplinary team, headed by a physician who specializes in spinal cord in-

There are regional trauma centers. or spinal cord injury centers, across the county. Do you know the location of the center nearest you? If not, it's a good idea to find out where it is, in case you or someone you know does sustain a spinal cord injury.

Extraordinary progress in the treatment of new spinal cord injuries offers promise, today, that the paralyzing process can be stopped or reversed. For existing paralysis, experiments using electrical stimulation of muscles, computer-controlled muscle activity, nerve transplants into the spinal cord and bridges over the injury all offer hope-lots of it.

The best way to deal with spinal cord injury, however, is to prevent it. Each of us has a responsibility, to ourselves and to others, to observe all safety measures, to avoid all hazards and to instruct our children to be every bit as cautious.

Above all, we must make sure that young people grasp the fundamental truth that the cost of driving or diving—carelessly can be very high. Spinal cord injury happens in a mo-ment; paralysis may be forever. There simply is no substitute for preventing a Mrs. Ray Coleman of 114 Mollere Drive said the project originated with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Comeaux of 105 Mollere Drive, who had displayed a 'card' in prior years.

This year, Coleman said, Carroll and Audrey (Boots) Comeaux asked their neighbors if they'd be willing to participate.

"They deserve the credit," Coleman said. "A few of the homeowners are elderly, and Carroll and Boots even painted their signs for them."

Mrs. Comeaux said she had seen a street in Lafayette, La. similarly decorated, and thought Mollere Drive would be good for a similar project.

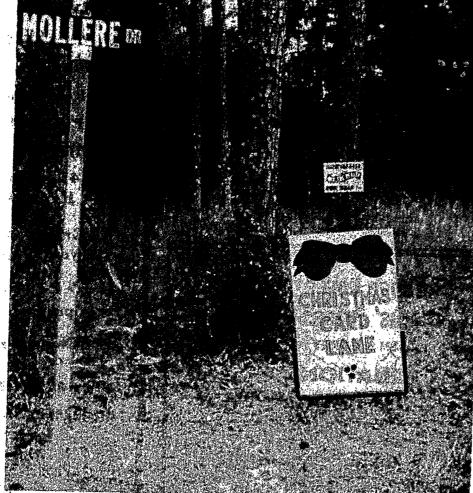

She and her husband sent notes to their neighbors inviting them over to see their sign, and offering to help if they needed assistance in doing their own.

Coleman said the Mollere Drive residents are really enjoying the display. 'And we're enjoying seeing all the traffic on the street. We've had more this year than we've ever had," she said. An additional benefit, Comeaux said, has been getting better acquainted with her neighbors.

"We had neighbors we just waved to, and neighbors whose names we didn't even. know before," she said.

"Now everybody knows everybody else."

Waveland man supports sheriffs' ranch because of his experiences

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A Waveland man actively supports the Mississippi Sheriffs Boys and Girls Ranch in Columbus because of his experiences as a teenage runaway.

Louis Boulet of 1505 Henderson St. says the ranch not only cares for homeless children, but also provides them with an education and guidance to become good citizens.

Boulet, who was reared in Algiers, La., says in the winter of 1923 at the age of about 12 he hopped a frieght car in New Orleans to travel west.

"I always went to the movies to see cowboy films and I wanted to be a cowboy," Boulet stated.

After a two-day ride with hobos and without any food, he arrived in Pecos, Tex. unconscious with fever. Local sheriff's deputies evidently found Boulet in the frieght car, carried him to the local doctor for medical attention and then to the sheriff's house to recover. "They took me to the sheriff's house.

The only name I remember is Red the sheriff because he had bright red hair," Boulet says. "He and his wife took care of me and I slept on a cot at his house for two or three days. They fed me and gave me medicine," Boulet reports. "After I was better the sheriff got me a job at the Pecos Mercantile Co. for $1 a day, a place to sleep and food," he as a ranch hand when he was dubbed 'Tenderfoot' by the cowboys who worked with him.

He notes in those days it was relatively safe to hitch-hike so he utilized that method to journey to Los Angeles, Calif. where he picked grapes; worked in movie studios; and washed, waxed and parked cars.

In Hollywood, Boulet met the late silent movie cowboy star Tom Mix. Boulet then hitch-hiked back to El Paso, Tex. where he worked parking cars for tips.

There Boulet met country-western singer Tex Ritter who would regularly drive a large touring car filled with attractive ladies. When I parked his car, I got a silver dollar which is like being given $100 today," Boulet states. Boulet then became homesick and hitch-hiked back to New Orleans.

"You'd find all along the road that the sheriffs in every community were nice people and if you wanted to earn money they'd help you find a job," he states.

Boulet contributes to the sheriffs' ranch to help homeless youths and the modern counterparts of the sheriffs who aided him as a runaway youngster.

He also remembers the wife of Red the sheriff stating, "There should be a way to help these youngsters and help them from doing wrong.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson notes he actively supports the ranch which provides a home for 42 boys from all over Mississippi including one youth from this county.

Peterson emphasizes the ranch does not accept delinquent children, only homeless ones.

The youths do not live in dormitory buildings, but in several houses in a 'ranch style' environment, the sheriff The youths must attend local schools and churches, Peterson reports. Both Peterson and Boulet encourage local residents to tour and contribute to the ranch.

They also note that any donations to the youth ranch are tax deductable. Donations should be sent to Mississip-

Bay police find two wrecked autos

By ELLIS CUEVAS

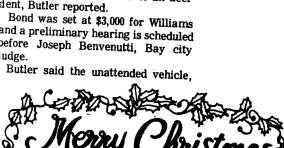

A Bay St. Louis resident was arrested Saturday morning and charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident, according to Captain Robert Butler.

Butler said,"Two wrecked vehicles were discovered at 231 Citizen St. early Saturday morning, and one appeared to have been parked off the road."

"An investigation revealed the vehicle causing the apparent accident belonged to Elton Williams, 539 Webster St., Bay St. Louis," Butler

Affidavits were secured and warrants were issued, and Williams was arrested and charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident, Butler reported.

Bond was set at $3,000 for Williams and a preliminary hearing is scheduled before Joseph Benvenutti, Bay city

Diamondhead Gardeners name decorating winners

The Diamondhead Garden John Davis, area horticulture Club held its annual specialist, will give a program Christmas luncheon at the on correct pruning prohome of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. cedures. Ashman, with 61 members

The Ashman home, beautifully decorated for the holiday season, was a perfect setting for the festive occasion. Members brought Christmas gifts that were later distributed to patients at a nearby nursing home.

Mrs. R. B. Boatright, president, welcomed the club members and thanked Mrs. Ashman for her hospitality. She dispensed with a business meeting, but announced that before lunch there would be a demonstration on techniques of making vegetable garnishes by Mrs. Clement Acker and Mrs. L. R. Wallace. The results of the demonstration delighted both the eye and the

MISS SAMPUGUIPA-Debbie Anderson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Anderson of Diamondhead and a Hancock North Central sophomore, was recently named Miss Sampuguipa as fourth runnerup in the Miss Fil-Am contest at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum Convention Center in Biloxi. The girl, modeling the formal she wore in the contest, says the sampuguipa is the national flower of the Philippines. She reports the contest sponsored by the Fil-Am Organization drew several girls of Philippine descent from all over the state to compete for the title of Miss Fil-Am. Throughout the Christmas-New Year holiday season the Flag of the United States will be flown proudly from public buildings as well as residences calling special attention to these religious and national holidays. The gesture is both fitting and proper.

This season has brought a delightful return to the customs practiced by early colonists. Natural and native materials such as make festive Colonial Williamsburg are widely used, tastefully replacing the glitter and tinsel, a fad of former years.

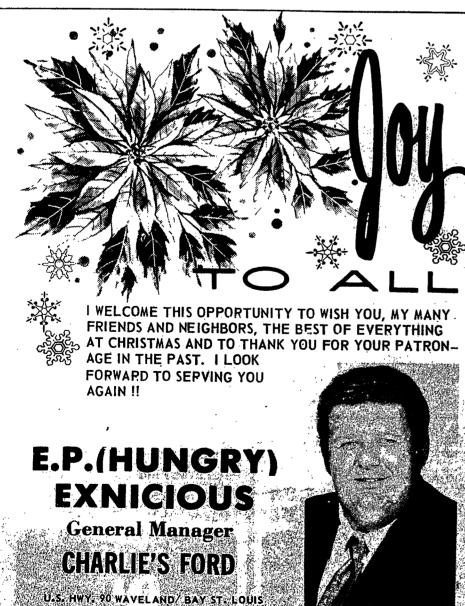

As we proudly accept our national emblem as a part of the holiday custom it might be well to reflect on the history of growth in our great country. Beginning with 13 stars and stripes we now have added 37 dditional stars.

On July 4, 1960 the 50-star flag became the official flag of the United States of America. This followed the admission of the state of Hawaii into the

Avoid waste in holiday food preparation

Marketing Specialist Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Holiday food is a good place to begin an "avoid waste" campaign. Christmas and New Year's preparation is an ideal time to look at some of the convenience foods for which we pay more dearly than we realize for the amount of time saved.

Whole hams and turkeys, bought at Christmas and not used because of sudden changes in plans, usually go into home freezers. That's good, if hams are used within three months and turkeys within six to nine months.

To keep either meat frozen for a longer period does not mean that it will be unsafe to eat. It does mean that it will be a little to a lot rancid. Sliced cooked turkey and ham also no more than three months.

A more frequent problem with ham than "too long in the freezer" is too long in the refrigerator. Country hams may keep good flavor and quality in a cool storage area or a refrigerator but quick cured hams begin to lose quality after a week in the refrigerator.

If a partially used ham must be stored longer, divide it into roasts and slices and freeze it duty foil. Label with date and for up to three months. The same is true of leftover turkey, chicken, or red meat roasts, though all foods stored QUESTION-A number of halresistant wrappings.

storage for three to six mon- type of cake and freeze. ths; salted nuts keep for three months: unslated shelled nuts and fruit cake may be kept in your home freezer at 0° F or below for a year.

To freeze candies and nuts, pack them in moisture-vapor resistant cartons, cans or jars. To prevent candies from sticking together, place waxed paper between layers as you pack them. Thaw candies in their unopened containers at room temperature. Fresh nuts may be removed from freezer containers and used without thawing. Salted or toasted nuts should be warmed in the oven to freshen them after they have been frozen.

Before the days of home freezers, fruit cake was kept for months at room temperature. Sponge, pound, and layer cakes were kept in tightly covered containers at keep well in home freezers for room temperature for several days. Now many people prefer to store all types of cakes in the home freezer.

For freeezing, it's best to cut cakes into the size portions that will be used in one meal unless a whole cake is to be used at a later time.

To freeze cake pieces, wrap each piece in waxed paper, then seal in a moisture-vapor resistant material such as freezer-tupe plastic or heavy-

To prevent crushing, place a frozen cake or pieces in a carton or basket in the freezer. Thaw iced cakes at room temperature before you remove its moisture-vapor resistant wrapper. Uniced cakes may be warmed in a conventional oven or electronic oven.

Fresh grated coconut loses quality in a few days in the refrigerator but will keep in the home freezer for three months. To freeze it, mix one part sugar with ten parts of coconut. Press the shredded coconut tightly into a moisture-vapor resistant container and freeze. Thaw frozen coconut in its unopened treezer package at room temperature or in your Leftover whipping cream spoils in a few days in the refirgerator but can keep for several months in the freezer. To freeze it, whip and sweeten heavy cream. Drop by spoonfuls on waxed paper. Freeze. When frozen, package in plastic bags or rigid containers, placing waxed paper between layers of frozen whipped cream. To serve, place unfrozen on desserts. Garnishes will thaw in 5 to 10 minutes. Use whipped cream within three months after it is frozen.

By Jan Kelly Extension Specialist Christmas Credit — Can You

Control Your Charge Card? Has Christmas shopping gotten the best of you again this year? In your panic to make last-minute selections, are you charging more than you can afford? Will you be paying off Christmas credit long after the Christmas season is over?

Credit card usage should not be your license to overspend. It can be a convenient budgeting tool if used wisely. Credit cards offer convenience, safety, emergency relief, and a quick credit reference. To the credit card abuser, they can be costly and destructive. There are a few rules to remember in order to make your credit card work payments, retail store charge accounts, and other outstanding loans (excluding mortgage loans), and retail store credit should not exceed 20 percent of your monthly takehome pay. Debt in excess of this amount will put you in a the questions you would be forced to ask if paying cash. Can I afford it? Do I really want it and need it? Can I repay comfortably and on time?

6. Try setting limits on the amount you will charge each month. Make your limits low enough that you can repay promptly and avoid finance

7. Keep receipts to check against your charge card statement for errors.

8. Try entering charge purchases in your checkbook register. Subtract them from your checking balance. At the end of the month, your charges will already be deducted.
